THE PRESIDENT'S BALL

Declaring politics adjourned, people of all political and religious faiths here and throughout the nation, are joining hands to assure the success of the president's ball—an event given for a great and inspiring purpose, which has for its objective the relief of the sufferings of little children and those of more advanced years who have fallen victim to the dread malady of spinal meningitis.

The President himself full well knows what it means to have the heavy hand of affliction laid upon him, but due to medical skill and his own rare fortitude he survived the ravages of the disease. However, he still carries with him the scars of the battle with this ruthless foe, and therefore has an understanding sympathy with those who through no fault of their own are laid low by this awful scourge.

GENEROUS GESTURE
Thanks to the vigilance of our local health officials we have been singularly free from the disease in this immediate locality, but other communities have not been so fortunate. It was therefore a humane and generous gesture by the local committee, which used part of the funds derived from last year's event to aid the distressed elsewhere.

The action was commended the other night by Mayor W. W. Scott during a session of the committee which is planning this year's event. Money used in the fight against the disease, thus enabling scientists to study and find means and methods for combatting the peril, is money well spent. Such actions make meaningful that oft-talked and so little practiced phrase of the brotherhood of man.

CAN BE REPRESENTED
Every citizen of Richmond, no matter what may be his or her financial situation, should not hesitate to buy a ticket to the president's ball. There will be entertainment in measure more than ample to cover the price of the ticket. Those who demand a return for their money will therefore have no cause to complain.

Part of the proceeds go to the Warm Springs, an institution sponsored by the President and which is doing a wonderful work for spinal meningitis sufferers. The balance is retained by the local committee for local work, or as in the instance cited, playing the part of the good samaritan for a neighboring community.

There are many who will be unable to attend the function, but there is no good or valid reason why everyone should not be represented there and thus be part of this great and worthy humanitarian enterprise.

Mass Buying To Be Subject Of Sessions

The Assembly Interim Committee on Agricultural Marketing will meet during the week of January 20th, in Giannini Hall at the University of California in Berkeley. Assemblyman T. H. Delap of Richmond, who is a member of the committee, is planning to attend the hearings.

150 CCC Boys Quarantined In Meningitis Scare

WATSONVILLE, Jan. 18—UP—Health authorities today levied a quarantine against 150 CCC workers who arrived in Watsonville yesterday from Arkansas following reports that one of the workers was afflicted with spinal meningitis.

The group was sent to the Monterey Presidio, isolated and placed under observation. Officials said the quarantine would not be lifted for at least two weeks.

The afflicted youth was said to be G. Maclock of Patterson, Ark.

MOTHER TO HANG FOR TOT DEATH

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 18.—UP—Mrs. Dorothy Sherwood, comely 27-year-old former show girl, who drowned her two-year-old son "rather than see him starve" was convicted of first degree murder today.

The verdict makes the death penalty mandatory. The child was killed last August. Mrs. Sherwood who was portrayed as a "nippler" by her landlady, readily confessed. Her husband, a laborer, died leaving her without funds to care for the child, she said.

CHILD DROWNED

She drowned him while bathing him by holding his head under the water. The prosecution demanded the extreme penalty and supported its contention the murder was premeditated by calling witnesses, including the landlady, who testified the pretty brunette usually had money.

The landlady said Mrs. Sherwood (Continued on page 8)

Olson Yields To Dictates Of Senator McAdoo

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18—UP—Rumors that an ouster was planned against State Senator Culbert Olson, chairman of the State Democratic Central Committee, enlivened stormy sessions of the committee tonight.

Olson, in a fiery speech before the 800 or more delegates in attendance, called for the insertion of a production for use plank in the Democratic platform at Philadelphia in June. A previous motion by Olson resulted in the decision to let President Roosevelt name the ticket for California delegates, a victory for Senator W. G. McAdoo and his party wing demanding unqualified support of the President's renomination without any production for use strings attached.

"Roosevelt is going to the left on economic policies and economic thinking" Olson said. "He was forced to this by the principles of the New Deal. He is the old President we have had in past years who has adopted ideas of liberal thinking and progressiveness. We should get control of the party and officers and force the party to the left so as to adopt the principles of production for use."

Man Is Kidnaped, Beaten By Thugs

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18—UP—Elmer Schu, San Francisco, was found unconscious and badly beaten along the highway near the Chinese cemetery at Colma tonight. Police believed he had been abducted, robbed and beaten as his automobile, a Ford coupe, also was missing.

A state bulletin was broadcast over the police teletype asking high way patrolmen and municipal police to watch for the coupe.

Kiss Limit To Be Enforced

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 18—UP—Husbands held their wives with one hand and their watches with the other today when Tulsa's three-minute goodbye kiss ordinance went into effect. Wives who drive their husbands to the office and take more than three minutes in the farewell embrace will be guilty of a misdemeanor.

HOUSE WILL APPROVE OF COMPROMISE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—UP—The mearled Senate vote on the soldiers' bonus failed to materialize late today when Senators, badly shaken by personal disputes over the munitions inquiry, put over until Monday a vote on final passage of the compromise bond-payment measure.

With tempers at ragged edge, Senators dragged out debate on the bonus and the arms investigation dispute to such length that a final vote on the bonus would have been impossible without a night session.

INFLATION IS KILLED
Before recessing until Monday, however, the Senate shoved the inflation issue further into the background by rejecting an amendment introduced by Senator Elmer Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, to pay the bonus with $2,000,000,000 in new currency. The vote was 64 to 27.

Only one obstacle remains in the way of final Senate passage of the bonus bill Monday. That is the proposal of Senator William H. King, Democrat, Utah, for payment only of the present cash surrender value of adjusted service certificates.

The coalition measure provides for payment of the 1945 value of the certificates in bonds which can (Continued on page 8)

U. S. Agent Is Kidnaped; Cops Seek Fugitive

BOKCHITO, Okla., Jan. 18—UP—Leonard W. Johnston, a counterfeiter who in turning the tables on a secret service agent became a kidnaper with death a possible penalty if he is caught, eluded posses in Southern Oklahoma and North Texas tonight.

Late yesterday William C. Morgan, was halted by a traffic jam at the outskirts of Paris, Texas. Johnston, whom Morgan was transferring from Texarkana to Paris, overpowered the officer and took his pistol.

The erstwhile prisoner with the officer as captive drove to Queen City, Texas, picked up his wife and two children and took them to Paris. Then started a night-long furive ride along country lanes that took the two across the Oklahoma boundary.

This morning Johnson stopped at a filling station near here, obtained gasoline and ordered Morgan to pay for it.

The agent pretended his wallet had fallen behind the automobile seat. While searching for it, he suddenly leaped from the car and ran, calling for help.

Scouters Class To Be Held At Church Monday

Scout leaders commissioners and Scouts of the area will gather Monday evening at the First Baptist church to attend one of a series of six courses in Scout leadership. The courses are under the direction of H. L. Hunn and Pat Murphy of the local Scout Executive board. The next courses will be held January 27 in Concord, February 3 in Berkeley, February 10 in Richmond and February 17 in Concord.

ROBERT V. COLLINS, prominent Richmond attorney, has become a partner of Attorney Thomas Carlson in the general practice of law.

R. V. Collins Is Partner Of Carlson

Announcement was made yesterday by Attorney Thomas M. Carlson that Robert V. Collins, who has been associated with his office for the past seven years, has now entered the firm as a partner in the general practice of law.

The firm will be known as Carlson and Collins. Collins has built up an enviable record as a trial lawyer. He has been associated with Carlson in the trial of many important cases and has handled a large number of cases individually with credit to his profession and himself.

Friends yesterday were congratulating Collins and were wishing him continued success.

Dunamis Group Install Heads At Meet Here

Before a large crowd of parents and friends last night at the Elks clubrooms, officers for the Richmond Chapter of Knights of Dunamis—national Eagle Scout honor society—were installed.

At the same time T. G. Gray, local Scout enthusiast, was announced as a new member of the advisory committee. He will serve with F. C. Shallenberger and Police Chief L. E. Jones.

The installation ceremonies were directed by Sam Patridge, grand commander of the group. Mrs. E. E. Greely, of the Girl Scouts, acted as musician for the installation, which was followed by a dance at a local clubrooms.

The new officers are: Duane Hall, commander, succeeding Don Garrard; Charles Ostrand, senior councillor; Frank Hoefler, junior councillor; Paul Kressmann, secretary and treasurer; Joseph Rusch, senior guide; Donald Himes, junior guide; Don McNary, inner guard; Ray Martin, outer guard.

Former Deputy Sheriff Married

MARTINEZ, Jan. 18—Friends learning tonight of the marriage in Reno today of Lila Shaffer, deputy coroner at Brentwood and former Deputy Sheriff Joe Josephs. The couple will return home Monday. Josephs served under former Sheriff R. R. Veale. He is now employed at the Crockett sugar refinery.

FOUR DEATHS REPORTED IN RAGING GALE

(By UNITED PRESS)

A whirling blizzard raged across the Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes Saturday leaving the region deep in snow, causing numerous deaths, stalling of transportation, and trailing in its wake a zero snap from the frigid Northwest.

Today the storm is expected to spend itself over the Atlantic, with less snow forecast for the week out with temperatures below normal.

FIRST TRAGEDY

First tragedy of the blizzard occurred at Kenosha, Wis., where high waves and wind lashed to pieces a fishing tug, the Cheerio, against ice piled high on the Lake Michigan shore. The crew of four men was believed drowned. Wreckage was "land" near the shore. Other deaths in traffic accidents, due to blinding snow and slippery streets made the storm's toll high.

Highways in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Northern Indiana were impassable in many places, and there were scores of abandoned automobiles on the roads.

HEAVY SNOWFALL

Snowfall was reported heaviest (Continued on page 8)

George Imbach To Claim Bride At Los Angeles

When Councilman George F. Imbach, city councilman, ex-mayor and insurance man leaves Richmond this afternoon his auto will be pointed toward the county court house in Los Angeles and matrimony.

The bride-to-be, Miss Arzella Sherburne, resides in Berkeley, but her mother is a resident of Hollywood and for that reason the ceremony is to be performed in the southland.

The marriage is to take place Thursday of this week at the Little Church of the Flower in Glendale. Imbach has a host of friends here and throughout the country whose best wishes will accompany him on the trip that will lead to the altar.

The bride is a charming woman, who will abandon a successful business career for domesticity.

Macdonald Ave. Accident Brings Suit For $15,000

MARTINEZ, Jan. 18—Damages of $16,604 today were sought by Edward James McCreagh, 20-year-old youth, in a suit he filed through his guardian, Hazel McCreagh, against Louis H. Michener and Helen L. Michener.

The action alleges that July 20, 1935, while McCreagh was walking across the intersection of Macdonald avenue and Sixteenth streets he was struck by a car driven by the defendants.

In the accident the youth suffered a broken right wrist, concussion of the brain, face paralysis and deafness in one ear. It is charged. Attorneys A. B. Tinnag and T. H. Delap are counsel for the plaintiffs.

DR. H. L. CARPENTER, local physician, is reported seriously ill at an Oakland hospital.

Members Of Royal Family Are Summoned To Bedside

Stricken Ruler

KING GEORGE of Great Britain who lies at death's door at his palace in London. The King was stricken Friday by a heart attack.

SANDRINGHAM, England, Sunday, Jan. 19—UP—King George V lay desperately ill of bronchial catarrh early today, with a crisis expected at any time.

Shortly after midnight, he was sleeping peacefully, with no change recorded since the last official bulletin at 3:30 P. M., on Saturday, which said that his heart and blood circulation were weak and gave "cause for anxiety."

BULLETIN IS ISSUED

The royal family, including the Prince of Wales, heir to the throne, were gathered at Sandringham House.

A statement issued at Sandringham at 10 P. M. last night (6 P. M. EST) said the King's condition was unchanged at that hour.

The 10 P. M. statement said there was no change to report in the King's condition since the last official bulletin was issued at 3:30 P. M. The bulletin was signed by Lord Dawson of Penn, Sir Stanley Hewett, Sir Frederic Jenne Williams, and Sir Maurice Cassidy, the latter a famous heart specialist who was summoned urgently from London today.

CAUTIONS REPORTS

Bulletins about the King's health are always so cautiously worded that use of the terms "cardiac weak" (Continued on page 8)

Program Of Recreation Under Way

Supervised activities for adults and children began yesterday under the county-wide WPA program of recreation, according to Bryan O. Wilson, County Superintendent of Schools and sponsor of the project.

Directors were placed at playgrounds in Richmond, Martinez, Concord, Clyde, Port Chicago, and Pittsburg. Plans were announced for additional workers at Antioch, Brentwood, Oakley and Walnut Creek. The Richmond City League Basketball Tournament is scheduled for this week.

Appointed by Wilson to direct the new program are Ernest Barbieri, Richmond, supervisor and Carol L. Levene, assistant supervisor. Barbieri was assistant supervisor of the SERRA recreation program and Miss Levene has been at the Clyde Family Bureau for the past year. Offices have been established at the Martinez Courthouse.

Barbieri stated yesterday that the program will embrace both outdoor and indoor recreation, including athletic tournaments, field days, competent instruction and dramatics, handicraft and demonstrations. Playgrounds, gymnasiums and other bases of activity are open to all adults and children in the county.

Persons who are eligible to WPA, and trained in any of the phases of recreation are asked to report to the Martinez office for interviews and assignments.

AZUCAR WINS FEATURE RACE AT L. A. TRACK

ARCADIA, Jan. 18.—UP—F. M. Alger's Azucar, winner of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap last year, showed an amazing return to form today when he galloped home ahead of the $2000 added San Felipe handicap at Santa Anita Park and to pay his backers $42.80 on $2 win tickets.

Aerial Cross finished second and Scotch Breeze third.

Eight horses were in the field but it was all Azucar as he came pounding down the home stretch, drew abreast and then ahead of Aerial Cross and finished a scant head in front.

Singing Wood, the favorite, finished in fifth place.

Singing Wood set the pace at the start of the mile event but faded as the first three finishers opened up after leaving the backstretch. Jockey Alf Robertson gave Azucar the rein and he responded by moving from the outside, and overhauling Aerial Cross' slight lead to win in 1:36.

The victory netted his owner $2,100.

Gilbert Estate Battle Imminent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18.—UP—A battle between two of his former wives for the estate of the late John Gilbert was reported brewing today, with Leatrice Joy, his second wife, seeking a large share of the $250,000 estate for her 14-year-old daughter, Leatrice Joy Gilbert.

The late film idol left the daughter $10,000, while $125,000 went to Virginia Bruce, actress, his fourth wife, and another $10,000 to her daughter, Susan Ann Gilbert.

Miss Joy reportedly contends Gilbert promised half of the estate to his first daughter.

Objects To Wife Being Club Hostess

MARTINEZ, Jan. 18.—Associated Press.—Charles E. Chastain today filed suit for divorce in superior court here against Helen Chastain. The couple married New Year's eve, December 31, 1929 and January 1, 1930, and separated September 29, 1935, the complaint states.

The plaintiff charges his wife would leave home for days at a time and persisted in working as a night club hostess against his wishes.

This Is A Sticker! Campaign Stamps Banned Farley Asks Ruling

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—UP—The Postoffice Department tonight put thousands of New York Republicans in jeopardy of five-year prison sentences because they affixed to their letters stickers bearing cartoons uncomplimentary to President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Officials said, however, that Postmaster General James A. Farley probably would let the sticker-placers off, if they promised never to do it again.

PILING IS MADE
The ruling of the department, prepared by Solicitor General Karl A. Crowley, indicated that it was against the law to show Mrs. Roosevelt carrying a Communist banner, to depict Mr. Roosevelt as Frankenstein, and to show him lighting a cigarette with a copy of the constitution for a match.

Two other stickers, one saying unpleasant things about the Townsend old age pension plan, and the other telling a scurrilous story about "beware" in capital letters, apparently are legal enough and may be used by Republicans to their hearts content, Crowley said.

FIVE STICKERS
Five stickers were prepared by the National Republican Council, of which Lambert Patterson is chairman, for use on the letters of loyal Republicans. The Republican National Committee repudiated the whole idea, but numerous New Yorkers apparently thought it a good one.

A pile of mail bags now reposes in the New York post office, full of letters bearing such stickers. The Department will return them to their senders with the warning that if they mail any more such matter, they will go to prison.

Crowley's opinion, produced at request of Farley, went off into the literary qualities of the Frankenstein story and concluded that "to be likened to Frankenstein as a creator of something maleficent certainly reflects no credit upon one's character."

SERIOUS REFLECTION
As for the cigarette-lighting picture, Crowley said:

"In my opinion, to intimate, as does this sticker, that one sworn to uphold the constitution, holds that obligation so lightly as nonchalantly to employ its destruction as a means to facilitate the procurement of the slight personal pleasure from the smoking of a cigarette, is to reflect seriously upon one's morality and mentality, and therefore, upon his character."

Sticker No. 3 was equally as bad, Crowley said. It showed Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt riding a single donkey toward a distant "Utopia." The President was talking into a microphone as he rode, while Mrs. Roosevelt carried the hammer and sickle of Communism on a banner across her shoulder.

THE OKAY
All the posters "attributed to the President certain impeachable actions and unparliamentary attitudes," the solicitor added, while the third one ascribed to the First Lady "an attitude which would be the ordinary mind of a detractor from the estimate of her character."

The other two stickers in the Republican collection Crowley found to be inoffensive because they related "solely to abstractions."

New Highs For Stocks Recorded On The N.Y. Mart

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—UP—Low priced shares and special issues were whirled forward to new highs for several years on the New York Stock Exchange this week.

The only group able to hold major portion of the rise was the utility section which advanced on expectations that the Supreme Court will invalidate the TVA this coming Monday.

Trading continued fairly large with more than 3,000,000 shares traded. However, volume tapered

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 18.—UP—Jockey Raymond Workman, leading American rider, was shaken up and Jockey James Lynch suffered a broken collarbone as a result of a bad spill in the first race at Hialeah Park today.

The accident occurred shortly after the start when The Gong, Lynch's mount and Singers Folly with Workman up, collided and fell. Both jockeys were knocked unconscious but quickly revived at the track hospital where they received emergency treatment.

The Gong, a three-year-old gelding by Pompey-Dinner Time, owned by Sherrill W. Ward, was injured and destroyed.

Machine Theft Ring Bared In Police Probe

AUBURN, Jan. 18.—UP—Operations of what is believed to be a state-wide ring of automobile thieves were disclosed today with the discovery of the frames of 13 stolen automobiles near Loomis, Placer county, southwest of Auburn.

Seven of the frames, according to Sheriff Elmer Gunn, have been identified as from automobiles belonging to Roseville and Sacramento motorists.

As authorities reconstructed operations of the ring, the automobiles were stolen on the streets of various cities, placed in a truck and driven to Loomis where they were dismantled, repainted and reassembled and then taken to various parts of the state for resale.

1925 Model Car Reported Taken

MARTINEZ, Jan. 18.—Police are convinced that someone with a sense of humor—or someone very hard pressed for transportation—stole an automobile from Joe Ferrera of this city.

The automobile owner reported to officers that his car was stolen from its parking place on Main street.

The machine, the officers were informed, is a 1925 model "Ford" whose manufacturer has been out of business for the past eight or nine years.

Twenty Firms Named By Hull In Arms Report

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—UP—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today referred to the Attorney-General "for such action as he may deem appropriate" the names of more than 20 companies suspected of trafficking in munitions in defiance of the law which requires them to register with the Government.

Prosecution is expected to follow if the Justice Department confirms their illicit operation.

Business of the companies under suspicion covers a wide range of manufacture, export and import of war goods, according to the State Department. Most of the companies were reported to be small, but two or three of them were said to be substantial in size. The names were withheld pending Justice Department investigation.

Murder Theory In Sailor Death

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—UP—Found floating in the harbor near his ship, the battered body of Harold V. Phelan, 33, gunner's mate aboard the U. S. S. Colorado, was subjected to an autopsy today in an effort to learn why he was murdered.

Bruises and welts on the sailor's face led harbor police to believe he was slain aboard his ship and tossed overboard.

Phelan, in the Navy 14 years, has a wife and son at Long Beach and mother, Mrs. Hattie M. Phelan, in Springfield, Mass.

LARGE CROWD HEAR HUEY LONG'S COUSIN

A large crowd that packed the east hall of the Schwake building to capacity listened Friday evening to an interesting address on the Townsend old age pension plan by Minor P. Long, cousin to the late Huey P. Long, Senator from Louisiana. Mr. Long was at his brilliant best when answering questions at the open forum following the address. Long, who is an authorized speaker sent out by Townsend headquarters in Washington, D. C., has made 100 talks on the Townsend plan in the last two months in a tour of the country.

The petitions for launching the Townsend 3rd party arrived Friday in El Cerrito from headquarters and are being circulated by a number of persons. Those desiring to sign the petitions will find the following list of names and addresses of the circulators convenient: Mrs. Mary Johnson, 646 Everett St.; Mrs. N. R. Stiff, 829 Galvin Drive; J. S. Chowling, 1536 Richmond; Mrs. N. Cezario, 6040 Stockton; Jack Criqui, 850 Sea View Drive; L. D. Sprague, 2331 San Joaquin; E. G. Inlay, 430 San Pablo Avenue.

Within a few days there will be other circulators, as the petitions must be filed by January 28. Next Friday evening the El Cerrito Townsend Club will stage another of their popular whist under the direction of Jack Criqui, whist chairman. The whist will be at Schwake Hall at 8 P.M.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But now Listerine has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halitosis, fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and their counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Mass Buying Sack Murder Of Laborer Brings Arrest Of Worker

throughout the entire week and the following schedule has been arranged.

January 20-21.—Hearings on the subject of "Mass Buying—Its Advantages and Dis-Advantages."

January 22.—Study of statistics available on the subject of price differential between the price paid the farmer and the price paid by the consumer.

January 23.—The morning will be free for discussion of various incidental subjects as many requests have been received from people to discuss matters directly relating to agricultural marketing.

The afternoon will be devoted to a hearing on the price situation and to a discussion of regulatory measures affecting the prune industry.

January 24.—A discussion of marketing problems related to the livestock industry will be conducted. It is expected that the committee will meet in Los Angeles in February and in Sacramento in March before its adjournment.

"It is believed generally that this committee will be a most important one during the 1937 session of the legislature, and any groups or individuals who wish to present any information to the committee may do so by making the necessary arrangements," stated Assemblyman DeLap.

Other members of the committee are: Assemblymen John Phillips, chairman; Frank C. Martin, Clarence R. Walker, James B. Utt, James E. Thorp and Claude M. Ward.

Out of a Chaos of Warring Loves and Loyalties, Upon a Single Fateful Night, Arises a Glorious Story

BETWEEN that sunset and the sunrise of Christmas Day, many lives were to change—the lives of those who dwelt along the ugly huddle of Houseboat Row, of those within a great mansion on The Hilltop, of those who watched furtively from the dark doorways of the city lying between. The story of those changes is one told with truly superb power and skill in the new serial novel.

ONE CHRISTMAS EVE

By RUTH LOUISE AYERS

IF SOME all-seeing camera could have snapped a picture of a particular group of people as dusk fell over the city on Christmas Eve, what varied glimpses would it have revealed!

There would be Nightingale, Luke Conners's daughter, leaning against the bar in his place, dreaming hopeless dreams—Vincent Rocke, living in his tragic silence, dreaming of Nightingale—Old Katie Jarvis muttering over her mad plan to free her boy—Big Adam preparing for his services in the True Faith Mission.

So it was at dusk. But so it would not be when dawn came. Within the span of a few hours destinies were to be resolved, visions shattered and loves to find expression.

An enthralling and stirring story, "One Christmas Eve." Begin the first chapter.

CLAUDETTE IN HER BEST FILM AT FOX TODAY

One of the smartest comedy romances of the screen and one credited as the first of the type for 1936, "The Bride Comes Home" starring Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray, is the featured attraction on the Fox theater bill today.

In a day when it is difficult to get away from the patterned story, this tale of a modern boy and girl who cannot spend five minutes together without fighting, yet who find that they can't stay away from each other, is refreshing. Their battles annihilate their plans for marriage and Miss Colbert, for sheer spice, elopes with his rival, played by Robert Young. MacMurray pursues them on a motorcycle and the wind-up comes in a marrying squire's home, with the squire himself a past master at shouting down arguments.

Frank Morgan is presented in his first starring picture "The Perfect Gentleman" on the same program.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18.—UP—A new burglar alarm was Merle Oberon's Christmas present from David Niven, the ex-British Army officer-film actor.

It is one of those new infra-red ray systems, and Niven had it installed in the actress' Santa Monica home without her learning of it. Merle finished work on the lot for the day, and Niven invited Miriam Hopkins and Joel McCrea and Director William Wyler to Merle's house, much to her mystification.

They crossed the threshold a loud bell began to ring and lights flashed on throughout the house. Niven touched a button and they went off. Merle opened a window, and bells and lights started again.

The rays are arranged so that they shoot across strategic paths in the house, invisible to the observer. The passing of a body across the rays sets off the alarms.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—In theatrical circles, it seems that producers as well as actors have their little tiffs.

A couple of weeks ago it was pretty generally known that George S. Kaufman had staged "Tomorrow's a Holiday" for John Golden, and had also had a hand in revising the script. When the play opened, however, Mr. Kaufman's name was mysteriously absent from the program.

The reason was a slight disagreement between the Messrs. Kaufman and Golden. The former thought the play needed more time before the opening curtain. Mr. Golden was tired of delays and ordered full steam ahead. The steam was turned on, accordingly, and a week or two later the play was sent to the junkyard.

Mr. Golden, in fact, hasn't had much peace attached to his offerings this season. His earlier production, "A Touch of Brimstone," brought on a feud between the two ladies who originally wrote the play and also ruffled the temper of its star, Roland Young. "Tomorrow's a Holiday" irritated not only Mr. Kaufman, Joseph Schildkraut and Curt Bois, both of whom had leading roles, but also in some harsh words before the brief run was over. All involved, apparently did not think that silence was golden.

Miss Frederick, Pioneer Movie Player, Dying

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18.—UP—Pauline Frederick, whose classic features have been well known on stage and screen for 30 years, fought for her life tonight in a Hollywood hospital.

Reports from the sickroom were not encouraging. Although she showed a "slight improvement" during the day, her condition was extremely critical. She underwent a major surgical operation Thursday for relief of an abdominal obstruction.

Born in Boston about 50 years ago, Miss Frederick made her stage debut early in the present century and entered the motion pictures in their infancy. One of her stellar roles was in Madame X. After a short period of retirement she returned to the films several years ago and made several talking pictures.

Don't Take Pills For Constipation

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels without restoring the digestive system of all four secretions and at the same time restore the torpid, lazy liver to proper working order. When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, coated tongue, yellow skin, sour stomach, gas, nervous attacks or other symptoms of constipation and liver trouble.

Plantax is made from the juices of harmless medicinal plants—nature's own remedies—that act in a mild, easy way without weakening or irritating the organs. Try it tonight. Large size $1 at any good drug store.

CHAPTER XXXIII

KURT found the others in a group behind one of the tents. They were standing there in dazed silence. Le Martin lay at their feet. Kurt saw at a glance that he was dead.

He knelt beside the body. The Frenchman had been stabbed through the heart. In death, his face was pathetically young and handsome.

Kurt stood up finally, and faced the others. "I'm sorry this had to happen," he said very slowly looking around at the white, strained faces, "but—perhaps it is just as well."

"And 'tonight is Christmas Eve," Christine said, with a choked sob. She began to cry hysterically. And Grey led her away.

"You should hang for this, Hastings!" Tobermann suddenly exploded. "If it hadn't been for this crazy idea of yours..."

Kurt ignored him. "If someone will help me," he said quietly, "we'll out the body in one of the cars. The weather is cold, fortunately."

"But you don't want to move the body before having a look around for clues," Dalton protested.

"I know all there is to know," Kurt answered. "By tomorrow I hope to have all the proof I need to send the murderer to the death he deserves."

Tobermann sputtered something about walking around to the front of the tents.

"Come on, Dalton—help me with the body," Kurt ordered quietly.

Le Martin was big and heavy. They had some difficulty in getting him into a car. Kurt threw an automobile rug over him and turned away.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Vertigo, or Dizziness, Is Brought On by Many Different Causes

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.
VERTIGO is a symptom that something is out of balance. The term is applied to a great variety of ailments, such as giddiness, dizziness, inability to balance the body, ringing in the ears, pounding in the head, sick stomach, and many conditions in which the person feels uncertain as to whether things are whirling around him or he is whirling around in space.

It has so many causes that the simple statement of dizziness brings to mind a host of conditions that may produce it. It may result from anemia or lack of red blood, or be due to an excess of blood in the brain, skin, stomach or other parts of the body.

So called full blooded persons suffer from vertigo, particularly intestinal toxemia, an excess of alcohol, the abuse of tobacco, overeating, hardening of the arteries, nervous conditions, epilepsy and diseases of the brain and spinal cord are among the causes.

Congestion or inflammation around the ear drum, obstruction of the tube leading from the nose to the middle ear, a cold in the head with swelling of the mucous membranes of the nose and obstruction of the nasal sinuses are all frequent causes.

Has Many Causes

Eye strain, the ingestion of certain drugs such as quinine and the salicylates cause ringing of the ears and may cause extreme dizziness and inability of the patient to maintain his balance when standing up.

The vertigo following swinging or whirling in space, as in some children's games, the sudden rising or falling of an elevator or boat due to an imbalance of the air in the middle ear; the dizziness which occurs from looking down from high places, watching whirling objects are due to eye strain.

Riding in railroad trains or fast moving automobiles and watching the landscape flash past causes the trouble in many individuals. They may also suffer from vertigo from stomach, headache, fainting and shortness of breath, which may continue for a number of hours.

The merry-go-rounds, roller coasters, scenic railways and many other devices gotten up for our entertainment at pleasure resorts are fertile sources of dizziness, which not only leave a bad effect at the time, but later make us more liable to the sensation of much less irritation.

Most of these conditions are unimportant, except in the degree of discomfort at the time. But attacks that are caused by anemia or of the brain due to unbalanced nervous control of the circulation of blood may cause serious trouble.

Danger is likely to develop particularly when we have a condition of hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, a weakened heart muscle or brittle blood vessels.

The first symptoms of epilepsy in young people are often taken for dizziness and vertigo, and the cause may not be recognized until the condition has become serious. Dizziness means something and when it continues to occur, we must make serious effort to find the cause.

Should Remove Cause

If the cause is simple, and can be easily removed, we should exert ourselves to do it because the condition is one that tends to increase and occur from less and less irritation.

In most cases the immediate treatment is to lie down, apply cold to the head, take some stimulant like aromatic spirits of ammonia. Some cases are worse when they lie down, especially the person who has consumed too much alcohol, and the bed and room simply won't stay still.

Mrs. M. H. M. complains she gets dizzy spells rather often and feels like bells are ringing and something is knocking in the back of her head. When it rains she is worse, can hardly get a deep breath, and her right lung and throat seem plugged up.

It strikes me she is suffering from nasal catarrh and sinus trouble, and that the tube leading from the nose to the middle ear becomes stopped up. It is evident that all the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and possibly of the bronchial tubes are congested and swollen. She should use local remedies to her nose to relieve congestion and take internally creosote and iron tonic to clear up the infection in the nose and bronchial tubes. Her condition is not serious unless the causes are neglected. General systemic building should aid this case.

Dr. Chrisman offers readers the privilege of addressing questions to him care of this column. He will answer questions of general interest in his regular daily column on this page.

Profiles For Today

Stella Walsh
Still a Champion

By TALBOT LAKE

WOMEN do not usually gain the prominence men do in the field of sport, but Stella Walsh (real name Walasiewicz) has earned for herself the title of champion feminine runner of all time. Perhaps Atalanta, of mythical times, may have been faster, but since there were no stopwatch watches in those days there is no way to prove it.

Now the Polish-American girl declares she is going to quit running after the 1936 Olympics and enter college to take up physical education. Later she plans to teach school. During the last Olympiad she competed under the banner of Poland.

In her eight years of big-time competition Miss Walsh has garnered fifty-two records on American, Polish, Canadian, and Japanese tracks. She is especially proud of the American Women's Broad Jump title, although most of her fame has been won in the sprints. In the 100-meter run, for instance, she holds the record at 17.8-10 seconds, which is only a second behind the men's best time. She also is the premier runner at 60 meters, 80 meters, and 200 meters. When you realize she is the fastest woman in the world, it corresponds to the old 220-yard dash, in 24 1-10 seconds, she stands out as phenomenal. As one who, in schooldays, could not make that time I feel ashamed of myself after all these years.

But Miss Walsh has not confined herself exclusively to running. Coming with her parents to Cleveland when a year old, she grew up a natural athlete. At first she took to softball, and then track. Now she is an invincible basketball fan, even making a record in that game by throwing a basketball 66 feet, 5 1/2 inches. She is captain of a team in Cleveland that plays a long schedule, and she never misses a game.

The real reason behind her decision to resign from track competition is probably because of basketball. It can't be old age, for she is still in her twenties.

Guide to Charm

Chapped Lips Curable With Soft Creams

By JACQUELINE HUNT

LIPS are such trouble in winter! Especially when you can't seem to find a lipstick that won't cake, and when your lips chap and become rough, or break open. I know of nothing that can be so distressing or so downright painful as cracked or chapped lips. You can soothe this condition, and to a large degree prevent its recurrence, if you will use some kind of creamy preparation on your lips at night and keep them moist, and then coated with camphor ice or pomade, during the day.

Be sure to remove all lipstick when you cleanse the skin at night. Then use a little cold lanoline, cocoa butter, camphor ice or pomade, and massage into the lips, smoothing from side to side. Leave some of the oil on the lips overnight. After you have rinsed your face in the morning and applied make-up, massage more of the pomade or cream into your lips, and then remove the excess with soft tissues.

Now apply the lipstick—a soft, creamy kind preferably. Blend it smoothly and then massage in a bit more of the cream or pomade. This little trick makes even ordinary lipstick much more permanent and will keep your lips damp enough so you will not be tempted to moisten them frequently.

There are several interesting things to keep in mind when applying an indelible lipstick. According to the chemist who is responsible for them, they contain two types of color, the permanent type and a superimposed color which gives lips the right shade. In using, apply the color evenly and "blend" off the excess color by biting your lips on a cleansing tissue instead of wiping it off.

When the excess color of indelible lipstick is wiped off, only the permanent tint may remain, which gives your lips an artificial, bluish effect. By blotting gently the true lip color will last for several hours without retouching. This is an important factor in choosing a lipstick, since most lips must have the brightening effect in the winter. The cold weather has a way of draining every particle of natural color from the lips and leaving them bluish and dull looking. Pomade or camphor ice will help keep the permanent lipstick natural looking and not drying.

Coming back to the soft creamy lipsticks, here is a suggestion you will find worth trying the next time your cheeks look a bit pale and you haven't any paste rouge handy. Apply two or three little dots of lipstick to each cheek, then dip your finger in cold cream and blend the color carefully. You will find the results quite satisfactory.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "Can you give me some special exercises for reducing the thighs? Especially on the inside?"—Mrs. Bessie M.

You do not say whether or not you are overweight. If you are then the necessary changes should be made in your diet before you can expect results from exercise. Any exercise such as squating, bending and kicking that use the muscles of the leg will help reduce the fatty tissues. If it is possible for you, swimming or horseback riding would reduce the flabby muscles in short order and at the same time will improve your general posture.

QUESTION: "My ankles and heels are dark and scaly, and my legs and knees very rough although I wash them carefully every time I bathe. I do admire pretty feet and legs and would like to keep mine looking nice. Can you suggest the proper care for them?"—Dorothy.

Use one of the rough bath mitts or a special foot brush and a stiff creamy lather for scrubbing the roughened areas. Rinse and dry, while the skin is soft from the warm water massage with a rich softening cream. Once a week massage the feet with warm olive oil or a mixture of 1/2 ounce castor oil, 1/2 ounce mineral oil and a few drops of lavender. Since your skin appears to be quite dry, smooth a hand lotion on your feet and legs before you put on silk stockings in the daytime, and if possible wear light woolen hose when you are outdoors.

There are two "don'ts" to be remembered when you apply shadow for evening wear. First, don't use too much, and second, don't put any of it underneath the eyes. Apply it only to the upper lids and do not let it extend beyond the eyebrows into the cheek or forehead.

Shirtwaist Theme Advanced For Formal Dinner Dresses

By IRENE VAIL

New York—The shirtwaist theme has been successful in practically every field of feminine attire. It is now brought forward in a dinner dress for the larger woman. The style is very gracefully adapted to the formal mode for the older woman, having short, cape-like sleeves, brilliantly beaded, and flatter to a woman with full arms. The dress comes in black or sapphire, and represents a type that fills the matron's need for practical and gracious simplicity in an evening dress formal enough for most occasions.

Definitely here again is the formal decolette, chisly characterized by straps over bare shoulders. Deeply cut fronts, in square or canisole lines, V or heart-shapes, emphasize a new quality for formal frocks, distinguishing them from last year's high necks, and covered shoulders. Interesting, too.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "I am planning to serve chicken patties at a bridge party. Is it necessary to lay a knife at each setting besides the fork, which as a rule is the only implement which I find necessary in eating chicken patty?"—H. B.

ANSWER: A knife is not necessary when serving chicken patty.

QUESTION: "Is it correct to wear your best clothes when attending church services, or should the congregation seek to appear neatly or humbly dressed?"—M.

ANSWER: One should dress neatly, rather than humbly, in church. He may wear his best clothes, unless they are so elegant or frivolous as to make him conspicuous in church.

Blind Man's Buff

Everyone is familiar with the game of Blind Man's Buff, which one person is blindfolded and tries to tag another to the great delight of the onlookers. Driving at night on the highways is a somewhat similar game, only it is played at 60 miles an hour and the object is to tag a pedestrian or another car.

Professor F. C. Caldwell, of the University, Investigating Illuminating Engineering, has found that a car at night is only one-third as visible as it is in the daytime. Of all accidents during the night

Time-Saving Steak Really Is Emergency

By JUDITH WILSON

HAVE you ever stopped to check up on how you spend a working day? If you are like the average homemaker you will probably find at least half the time is spent in planning, marketing, preparing, and serving meals to your family. Of course, there are days when you will want to serve a quick steak or chop dinner with easily prepared vegetables and an emergency dessert, but you cannot afford to indulge in time-saving foods too often.

How, then, can you cut down on the time spent in the kitchen without impairing the family budget? You have two trusty helpers—an oven that can be regulated and a good icebox or mechanical refrigerator.

Sweet Potato-Pork Casserole
The first menu today requires a total preparing and baking time of about an hour. For the main dish, slice 5 sweet potatoes crosswise, put a layer in a greased baking dish and sprinkle with salt, pepper and brown sugar. Continue until all the potatoes are used. Pour over enough hot milk to almost cover. Rub 6 pork chops with salt and pepper and place on top of the potatoes. Cover and bake in a hot oven about 45 minutes. Remove the cover and let bake until the chops are brown and tender.

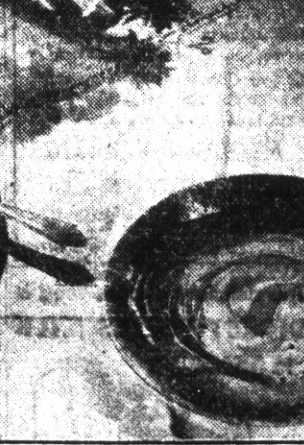

As soon as you pop the pork chops into the oven, scrub, scrape and dice 1 bunch of carrots. Par-boil for 10 minutes, drain and put in a greased baking dish. Pour 1/4 cup melted butter and 1 tablespoon sugar over the carrots, sprinkle with paprika and bake for 45 minutes. With dinner in the oven, you can make the dough for the shortcake. It will not take more than 15 minutes to bake in a hot oven, so you can wait until you are dishing up supper.

Mock Duck
If you prefer the mock duck, put 2 pounds of beef from the lower part of the round through the food chopper. Season it well with salt and pepper and flatten into an oblong shape. Spread with reheated, left-over mashed potatoes that have been seasoned with a little finely chopped onion, chopped celery, and a beaten egg. Fold the meat roll together and put into a greased baking dish, place strips of bacon over the top, and bake for about 50 minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Rice Pudding
The pudding in the second menu is a specially nice one. Put 1/3 cup washed rice and 1 quart of milk in the top of a double boiler and cook, stirring frequently for 1 hour. Mix with 1 cup of seedless raisins, 1 1/2 cups shredded coconut and 1/2 cup sugar. Then into a greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for 1 hour. Serve hot with the following sauce:

Cream Topping
Cream together 2 tablespoons butter and 2 cups of sifted confectioners sugar. Add the well-beaten yolk of an egg and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Last of all stir in the lightly beaten white of the egg.

Lamb Stew
For the lamb stew slice 1 1/2 pounds of lean lamb. Dip each piece in flour and brown in melted fat, then drain and put into a heavy stew pan and cover with boiling water. Peel and slice 2 carrots, 2 turnips, 4 potatoes and 2 onions, brown lightly in the fat, and add to the stew with 1 cup of prepared string beans and 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Cover tightly and put in a moderate oven to cook slowly for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Ten minutes before serving time drop in small dumplings or tiny biscuits. Increase the heat and cook until done.

RECEPTION CHOCOLATE: Combine 2/3 cup sugar, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate and 4 cups cold water in the top of a double boiler. Place over direct heat and boil, stirring constantly. Add a pinch salt, 4 cups rich milk and place over hot water until only heated. Add 1/2 teaspoon vanilla and beat with a rotary egg beater until light and frothy. With whipped cream or marshmallow cream. Serves 12.

MODERN WOMEN

She Has New Husband, But Is Fond of Her Old In-Laws

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

IT OFTEN happens that the problem presented to me is peculiar to neither a man or a woman, just a human problem over which either masculine or feminine feet might trip, but today's letters are essentially women's problems. A man would know at once how to handle the first, and never meet up with the second.

You and Your Child

Child Loses Lesson Escaping Punishment

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

ALICE was going out to join her friends after lunch when mother warned: "If you do not come in when I call you will be punished. I'm giving you fair warning this time."

At two-thirty mother called to the child. She knew Alice had heard her, because Alice turned her head and asked, "What?" "Come in," mother ordered, quickly drawing her head into the house.

To show she meant business, she shut the window promptly. This time she did not rap on the window to get the child's attention, but left it and went about her duties, determined she would carry out her threat and that Alice would suffer the consequences.

At a quarter of four, Alice sauntered in. She was glad to find mother busy on the telephone, so this gave her a chance to slip out of her street garments and act innocent. As mother hung up the receiver she observed Alice presumably engrossed in a book. She thought of punishing her at once, but suddenly remembered certain household matters that needed attention and decided in their favor. Alice, meanwhile, certainly was expecting punishment, though she may have been hoping to escape it.

Brother soon arrived from high school and amusingly related the events of the day. Mother came to the kitchen door frequently and joined the laughter. Then brother left and mother emerged free at last to punish Alice, and determined to do it. But she found she could not. Alice greeted her with a jest on her lips. Mother, too, was no longer in the mood for carrying out her threat, and so nothing was done about it.

If a child deserves punishment, give it to him as promised. Do not delay it, or you may lose the chance to teach him a lesson he needs.

Remark About Vanity.

"My daughters hurt me very much. One said only yesterday: 'What difference does it make to a woman of your age whether you've got the newest or your hair is becoming or not?' They are always making sniping remarks about my vanity. Do you think, Mrs. Martin, it is wrong to care so much about clothes at my age? I love to look well, but I am getting very sensitive on the subject because of my children's attitude. I wonder whether I am different from other women of my age? I don't know myself as I live in N.Y."

Among the leisure class there are many of your contemporaries who feel as you do. The lifelong habit of thinking about clothes and of keeping up appearance is not easily broken, and if you are a woman of your age, it is reasonable to think of the vanities of life, providing, of course, you do not over-value them.

Could it be that your family are disapproving because they feel you cannot afford to dress as you like, or that they feel you are spending too much money on upkeep, such as in beauty parlors or something of the sort? Without knowing all the circumstances, I cannot help but get the impression there must be some such ground for their criticism. The average daughter is only too delighted when her mother finds an interest in keeping herself fit and fashionable. If you are financially independent and can afford to indulge your vanity it's certainly your privilege to do so.

Short Cuts

Broiling, frying or roasting retains the best flavor in young, tender fowl. For older, less tender birds, the best results are obtained in stew or in fricassee.

Some coffee connoisseurs believe that a better flavored cup of coffee results when cream is poured in the cup first and the hot coffee then poured over the cream.

The following ingredients used in these proportions make a delicious French dressing: Six tablespoons olive oil, two tablespoons lemon juice, one teaspoonful salt, a quarter teaspoon pepper, and a dash of paprika.

The outer green lettuce leaves are much richer in iron than heart lettuce.

FOUR DEATHS REPORTED IN RAGING GALE

In a decade in the northwest part of Iowa.

Trains arriving in Chicago from the North and Northwest were hours late. The crack Overland Limited of the Chicago & North-western railroad was delayed for hours by snowfalls in the West. Trains from the East were delayed as the storm swept toward the seaboard.

PLANES HELD UP

Mail and passenger airplanes took off from Chicago for the West as the skies cleared while the blizzard raged eastward, but planes headed for East were grounded because snow made flying hazardous over the Alleghenies.

In Chicago the sun broke through the clouds for the first time in 11 days as the snow whirled at its greatest density.

What the East and Midwest could expect today in low temperatures was indicated by readings in the Northwest and Southwest.

Crookston, Minn., was the coldest spot in the country with 35 below zero.

COAST STORM RAGING

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 18.—UP—A winter storm which may rival that which wrecked the freighter Iowa on Peacock Spit last Sunday, drove over the Northwest tonight. A snow-laden snag fell and crushed to death Harvey Kinnam, 30, who was felling a tree 30 miles west of Klamath Falls, Ore. Harry Beer, his companion, was hurled 20 feet but unharmed.

A heavy snowstorm swirled over the mid-Columbia regions, melting on the lowlands but piling upon the mountains. The Dalles reported. Snow and rain alternated in Portland.

Italian Force Advance Claims Are Ridiculed

ROME, Sept. 18.—UP—An official announcement today said that General Rodolfo Graziani's mo-otized troops have advanced 125 miles in the Dolo sector of Southern Ethiopia.

Five thousand Ethiopians have been killed in the five-day assault. Italian losses were placed at 40 native troops and one white officer.

REPORT RIDICULED

ADDIS ABABA, Jan. 18.—UP—Reports of a 125-mile advance of Italian troops on the southern front and deaths of 5000 Ethiopians were ridiculed here by authorities who claim "the reports are fantastic."

The authorities claimed that the very nature of the terrain gave lie to the official reports of the Italian government and said that even an unopposed army could not advance 125 miles in a few days.

Seeking Potential Enemy

ABOARD THE big men-o'-war the radios crackled. Somewhere in the Pacific, according to advices from H. Q., a potential enemy lurked, waiting to attack American shores. "Go get 'im!" came the orders. Here the battle line is formed in tactical exercises pursued by the American fleet.

Seek Substitute

COMING from Hawaii to the mainland United States to watch developments in the sugar situation since the outlawing of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, a party of Hawaiian sugar industry leaders arrived in San Francisco. Among the group were H. Alexander Walker, left, president of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association and General Briant H. Wells, retired, right, secretary of the association.

Thirteen Die In Plane Crash

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Jan. 18.—UP—Thirteen persons were killed in a tri-motored airplane that crashed in the Tapacari Swamps, 23 miles from Cochabamba, police at Cochabamba were advised today.

Pilot Wilhelm, 26, a Bolivian, and co-pilot Hennel, 42, a German, were reported among the dead.

Cause of the crash was undetermined. The plane was owned by the Lloyd Aereo Boliviano Company and was flying toward La Paz.

50-Passenger Plane Planned

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—UP—Two major airlines today were reported considering pooling $1,000,000 in resources for construction of a 50-passenger commercial airplane capable of crossing the nation in 10 hours.

From Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., came the admission that TWA and United Air Lines probably would form the financial combine to develop the first of the "jet" planes. The scheme here of W. A. Patterson, United Airlines president, indicated the plane might be built here.

TWA estimated the proposed new plane would whiz across the country at 250 miles per hour, making the ten-hour trip with only two stops. It would carry a crew of five.

IT'S SIMPLY INEXCUSABLE

You cannot expect to make friends socially or in business if you have halitosis (bad breath). Since you cannot detect it yourself, the one way of making sure you do not offend is to gargle often with Listerine. It instantly destroys odors, improves mouth hygiene and checks infection. ARMS BATTLE KEEPS SOLONS IN HOT WATER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—UP—A dramatic attempt to save the Senate munitions inquiry from collapse interrupted debate on the bonus bill today and aroused still further Senate animosities, caused by charges of "falsifying" leveled against the late President Woodrow Wilson.

Senator Bennett Champ Clark, D. Mo., son of the renowned late speaker of the House, who was defeated by Wilson for the 1912 Democratic presidential nomination, made a rousing defense against charges that committee leaders had "dirt-daubed the sepulcher" of Wilson.

Whether Clark's militant answer to committee critics would save the investigation was unpredictable. General opinion was that the fire had been taken from the inquiry, not only because of the attacks, but by the fact that only $400 remains of the $125,000 appropriated for the investigation.

J. P. Morgan and his New York banking associates, principal witnesses in the committee's efforts to show that heavy loans to the Allies caused America's eventual entrance into the World War, have been instructed to appear as usual next Tuesday when the munitions group is scheduled to resume hearings.

DEFENSE SELF

Rising in the midst of perfunctory bonus debate, Clark defended himself and the committee chairman Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., against assertions of Senator Carter Glass, D. Va., and Senator Tom Connally, D., Tex., that they had "besmirched" Wilson's memory.

Target of the attack was Nye's statement that the former President knew, before the Versailles treaty was signed ending the World War, that Allied nations had agreed secretly to remake the map of Europe.

"Any public man must know," Clark contended, "that he's making history and his acts are a fair subject for investigation at a later date. It is no reflection on the memory of Woodrow Wilson to examine dispassionately the web of circumstances that dragged us into war."

The diminutive Glass, master of vituperative rhetoric, who startled the Senate with his attack on the committee yesterday, sat quietly while Clark spoke.

Police Quell Student Riot

PARIS, Sept. 18.—UP—Strong police forces guarded public buildings in Latin Quarter after another outbreak of students demanding the resignation of Professor Gaston Jeze, French advisor to the Emperor of Ethiopia.

The law and medical schools of the University of Paris were closed. Police broke up numerous attempts of striking students to carry out mass demonstrations against Jeze. Minor injuries among students and police resorted.

ness" and "cause for anxiety" indicated the doctors probably took a serious view of his condition.

A prominent medical authority explained that cardiac weakness means that "the heart is not strong" and the circulation not good as a result of coughing.

OXYGEN ADMINISTERED
Oxygen was being administered to aid the King's breathing. It was explained that this in itself is not necessarily alarming because oxygen has frequently been administered to the King in recent months to improve the delicate condition of his respiratory organs.

Besides the queen and the Prince of Wales, the members of the royal family present here included Princess Mary, the King's only daughter, with her husband, Lord Harewood, and the Duke and Duchess of York.

DUKE EXPECTED
The Duke and Duchess of Kent and the Duke of Gloucester were expected from London at any time.

The Duke of Gloucester is ill with a sore throat, but planned to make the trip nevertheless. Thus all the King's sons will be with him.

The presence of the Prince of Wales is imperative, because his place is in the death chamber if the King expires. The moment the King draws his last breath, the Prince of Wales becomes King, probably to be known as King Edward VIII.

Sir John Simon, home secretary, also must be in the death chamber. Sir John remained ready for an instant call at his home at Aldworth, Surrey, not far from Sandringham. Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin cancelled a projected trip and remained on call at his London residence.

MAY NAME COUNCIL

LONDON, Sept. 18.—A council of state may be appointed during the King's illness to deal with all matters which ordinarily come before the Crown, it was understood tonight.

A similar council functioned during the King's illness in 1925. It consisted of the Queen, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Lord Chancellor, Prime Minister, and the Archbishop of Canterbury. Prayers for the King will be said in Canterbury Cathedral tomorrow afternoon.

Huge Property Settlement In Reno Divorce HOUSE WILL APPROVE OF COMPROMISE

RENO, Nev., Jan. 18.—UP—A sealed property agreement, said to involve a tremendous sum, was filed today in Nevada courts as Mrs. Marion L. Straus obtained a divorce from Arthur W. Straus, New York and Chicago financier.

Details of the agreement were not made public. The court in accepting the document dissolved a restraining order through which Mrs. Straus had tied up $1,200,000 deposited by her husband in bank.

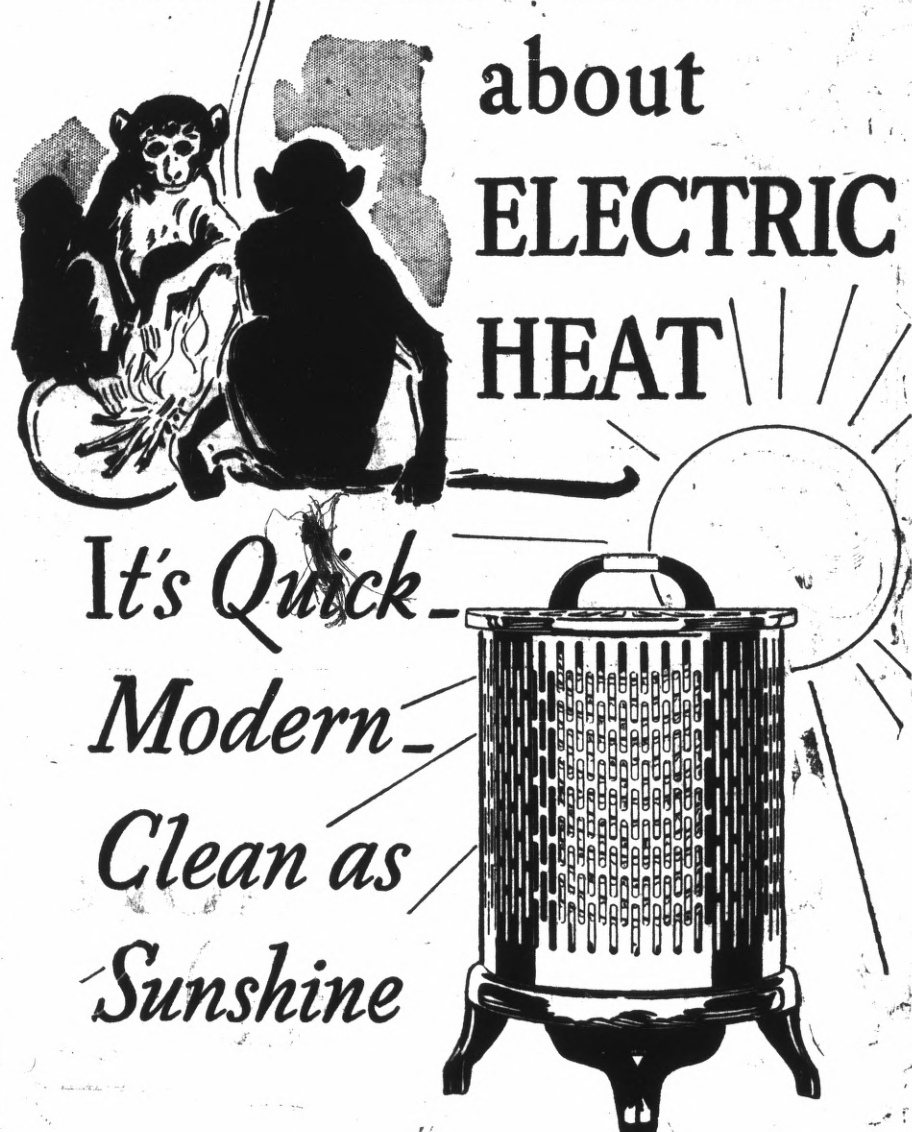

Straus is president of the A. W. S. Corporation of Delaware. Several years ago he sold his holding in the S. W. Straus Co. for $2,200,000. The Strauses were married in Philadelphia in 1906. The divorce suit charged desertion.

GRAYSON MARRIED

HONOLULU, Jan. 18.—UP—Bobby Grayson, Stanford University full-back and Miss Christine Williams, of Honolulu, were married today in a quiet ceremony at St. Clements Episcopal church in the presence of 150 invited guests.

There are no MONKEY-SHINES about ELECTRIC HEAT

It's Quick—
Modern—Clean as Sunshine

YOU DO NOT have to be tropical-blooded to appreciate the wholesome, full-bodied warmth of an electric heater in a chilly bathroom or bedroom. And in every home there is need for at least one or two of the quick and good extra heat providers.

With the portable electric heater there are no "monkey-shines" necessary to put it to work. Just plug it into any convenience outlet. It goes to work fast and throws out heat like a fire-place. Then it takes up the cold air from the chilly floor, warms this air and circulates it from floor to ceiling like a furnace.

Buy one of these electric heaters today. This added electrical convenience, as with any other electric appliances you add now, can in most cases be operated from your savings from REDUCED ELECTRIC RATES.
